Art Unit: 1712

1. The numbering of claims is not in accordance with 37 CFR 1.126 which requires the original numbering of the claims to be preserved throughout the prosecution. When claims are canceled, the remaining claims must not be renumbered. When new claims are presented, they must be numbered consecutively beginning with the number next following the highest numbered claims previously presented (whether entered or not).

Misnumbered claims 65 to 85 been renumbered 45 to 65.

2. Claims 65 to 85 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being incomplete for omitting essential steps, such omission amounting to a gap between the steps. See MPEP § 2172.01. The omitted steps are: the addition of an endcapping agent that will produce the required A and A' terminal groups.

3. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

4. Claims 63 to 65 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 64 of copending Application No. 10/293,056. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claimed methods of providing a hydrogel embrace each other, in that the process of preparing the polysiloxane prepolymer mixtures overlap and the added monofunctional silicone monomer in instant claim 99 is required in claim 64.

Art Unit: 1712

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

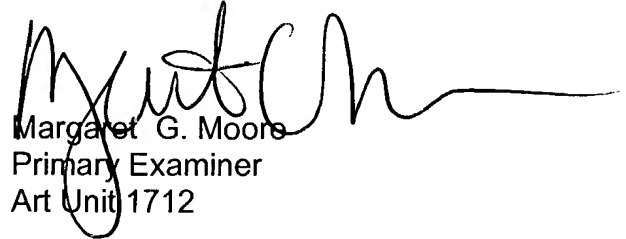

5. The instant claims are neither taught nor suggested by the prior art. The reaction between a cyclic siloxane and a end capping agent to produce the polysiloxane (I) is known, and the general reaction process for preparing polysiloxane (II) is known as well. See for instance 6,288,196, 6,184,330 and 4,153,641. There is, however, no motivation to select a combination of end capping agents to result in a polysiloxane mixture as required by the instant claims. (The claimed step of reacting the mixture as defined is met by the prior art but no prior art rejection has been made because, as noted in paragraph 2 supra, there is a necessary reactant that is not claimed but that must be present in the claimed reaction mixture to form the mixture of (I) and (II) This omission must be corrected before the claims can pass to issue). Mixtures of polysiloxanes having one terminal reactive group and polysiloxanes having two terminal reactive groups are known, but no reference teaches or suggests the particular process as claimed of forming such blends. See 5,216,104, 5,705,588 (column 10, lines 20 to 30) and 5,714,557.

6. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Margaret G. Moore whose telephone number is 571-272-1090. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday to Wednesday and Friday, 10am to 4pm.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Randy Gulakowski can be reached on (571) 272-1302. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 703-872-9306.
